Lifts an Elephant With His Teeth.

Milo, the famous athlete of ancient Greece, the man who was victor at both the Olympic and Pythian games for six different times in succession, and whose chief claim to fame rests upon the feat of running four miles with a 2-year-old ox upon his shoulders, would have been head with shame could he visit London and witness the wonderful feats performed by Sullivan, the modern Samson. Sullivan is only 31 years of age and weighs but 163 pounds, yet he is a physical giant without an equal in the known world. He regularly goes through a routine of feats illustrative of his wonderful strength, the most remarkable being the actual lifting of an elephant with his teeth.

The elephant is not a Jumbo, to be sure; neither is he small, especially when you come to consider the size of the man who does the lifting and the usual dimensions and strength of human teeth. The elephant daily and nightly swings like a pendulum from Mr. Sullivan's teeth is known as "the infant" and weighs between 1,800 and 2,000 pounds. This remarkable strong man is probably the only one in the world who lifts more than 1,000 pounds with the teeth alone. Another favorite trick of his is that of lifting a barrel of water (568 pounds) with one finger.—St. Louis Republic.

The application of animals and animal substances to the cure of disease has prevailed from the earliest times, though the greater part of such remedies, until recent times, have been founded on either fantastic or superstitious notions.

There is no other work in the world of which so many copies are printed annually as of the Chinese almanac. The number is estimated at several millions. It is printed at Peking and is a monopoly of the emperor.

There are differences in testis. Some are of a nature capable of withstanding very rough usage, while others are frail and need constant attention.

The use of drapery in ideal art is as purely for artistic reasons as its absence and has nothing to do with the propriety of clothing.

HALE METHOD OF PAINLESS FILLING.

NEW DEPARTURE IN DENTISTRY!

DR. PORTER HAS RETURNED for the purpose of advertising the

"Hale Method of Painless Filling."

Absolutely painless without Chloroform, Gas, Ether or Cocaine.

OFFICE IN STEELE BUILDING, COMMERCIAL ROW, RENO.

Here are a Few Testimonials from Citizens Who have Already Tried the Method:

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—It affords me pleasure to say that the Hale method of painless filling opens a new era in the dental world. After having several very sensitive cavities filled by you with gold and amalgam with gratifying results, I am of the opinion that the method is far beyond competition. PATRICK HENRY.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—In answer to your request for my candid opinion as to the Hale method of painless filling, I beg to state that I went to one of Dr. Leek's finest operators in San Francisco, and he filled several teeth for me with more or less pain; but when he came to the one you have just filled, it was simply impossible for me to endure the torture, consequently I asked him to stop, which he did. I thought I would be obliged to have the tooth extracted. I wish to state that in five minutes after you commenced to operate there was positively no pain; it felt just as if you were cutting a piece of wood. I am so highly pleased with the manner in which you filled the tooth that I feel it but just to express my appreciation of the method. It is all you claim for it. CHARLES HOPE.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—I have had teeth extracted before by so-called painless methods, but you are the only operator who has extracted teeth for me without pain. Your method of extracting surpasses my most sanguine expectations. MRS. H. PRENTISS.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—It gives me great pleasure to state that I am thoroughly convinced of the excellence of your method. I expected to suffer dreadfully having the cavity filled, as it was the worst one I had to have done. In about five minutes after you began to work on it I was satisfied that it would not hurt, which it did not during the entire operation. The tooth you extracted is one I have been dreading for eight years, and after consulting dentists in Sacramento, who advised me not to have it removed, as the ordeal might prove injurious to my health and also disfigure my face. You extracted the tooth without a particle of pain, and I will have no further dread of the dental chair, providing I can obtain the Hale Method. MARY E. FLECKENSTEIN.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—After using Hale's Painless Method as administered by you in the extraction of teeth, I can bear testimony that the results are satisfactory, and that teeth can be extracted painless by said method. Respectfully yours, HENRY J. NEYLAND.

Dr. Porter—DEAR SIR:—I believe that the Hale Painless Method of filling is destined to lead the world in its especial field of usefulness. I am particularly impressed with it, owing to the fact that one does not lose consciousness while having teeth filled, and at the same time does not suffer a particle of pain. You are at liberty to refer any one who contemplates having sensitive teeth filled to me. JOHN SHERITT.

FRAUDULENT PENSIONERS.

It is now over twenty-eight years since the last shot was fired in the war of the rebellion and the pension list is larger than it ever was before and is being increased daily. There are more pensioners than there were soldiers in the Union army at any one time during the war. Congressman Garfield apologized for asking that $29,000,000 be appropriated for pensions over a dozen years ago, and said on the floor of the house of representatives that from that time forward the list would naturally decrease. Now the amount annually expended for pensions exceeds $186,000,000, and the end is not yet, as there are thousands of applications on file.

The people feel that it is time to order a halt in this pension business, and many of the bravest men who fought in the war are expressing the opinion that it is time to stop.

General Francis Slocum, whose record as a soldier is second to none, says there is no mistake about the pension roll being fraudulent. There are deserters and bounty jumpers and men who were never in the army drawing pensions. Though it would involve a good deal of labor, the rolls could be purged of the fraudulent names and if he were a younger man and wanted office he would like the job, for the sake of getting at the names that are on the books and casting them out. Democratic and Republican congressmen, he says, have been equally guilty in swelling the list.

There is no complaint from any source against pensioning deserving men who served in the war and lost limbs or health in the service of the country, but there is a general disposition among those who served in the army as well as those who did not, to stop wholesale pensioning and adding fraudulent names to the roll to advance the political interests of individuals or parties.

BONDS AND GREENBACKS.

The general opinion prevails that the greater part if not all the government bonds were issued during the war to keep armies in the field and supply them with arms and ammunition. The treasury reports show that in the seven years beginning with 1862 bonds were issued as follows:

1862	$60,982,450
1863	180,987,550
1864	381,202,250
1865	279,646,150
1866	124,714,400
1867	421,469,500
1868	425,443,900

Total $1,854,736,150

The National Watchman directs attention to this statement, which shows that in four years after the war closed the government issued $1,251,375,000, or $648,211,659 more bonds than during the three years when the country was involved in war. As the war ended in April, 1865, the Watchman intimates that the greater part of the bonds issued after that date were not sold for legitimate purposes.

It has been publicly proclaimed by the Washington Post, which is edited by President Arthur's postmaster-general, that no one in or out of the treasury department knows the amounts of government notes or greenbacks issued. The notes were not registered and the only way that the number printed can be even approximately ascertained is by the affidavit of the company which furnished the peculiar paper used in greenbacks under contract to the government. General Rosecrans, when register of the treasury, suggested the necessity of registering the notes as well as the bonds issued, but the suggestion was not received with favor by those in authority. The truth of the Post's assertion has not been questioned by the treasury officials and the inference is that it could not be denied. Hundreds of millions of greenbacks were issued, but there is nothing on record to show and no means of ascertaining the amount.

A BIMETALLIC MEMORIAL.

A memorial is being signed by prominent bimetalists in England asking Prime Minister Gladstone to instruct the British delegates to the Brussels conference to give earnest and favorable consideration to any method for increasing the silver currency. The memorial is signed by a number of lords and members of parliament, and may have had something to do with Gladstone's change from a single standard advocate to a bimetalist. England, and in fact Continental Europe, is feeling the effect of the demonetization of silver as well as the United States, though not to so great an extent. Gladstone sees the drift of public opinion and does not hesitate to publicly retract his former statements and admit that a more general use of silver would be beneficial to the country.

The first auditor of the treasury has issued an order to prevent favoritism in the examination of accounts. It has been the practice to make accounts special at the request of certain attorneys doing business before the department, and thus assisting them through ahead of their turn, thereby working a great injustice to others who could bring no influence to bear upon the office. Under the new rules each account must be taken up in the order it was referred. None are to be made special.

ANOTHER BANK CLOSED. New Controller of the Currency Refers to National Banks.

W. C. RIPPEY ON TRIAL.

British Imperial Institute Opened by Queen Victoria.

National Banking System.

WASHINGTON, 10.—At a banquet to-night given in honor of the new comptroller of the currency, Eccles, in speaking of the national banking system he said in part: "I believe upon every national bank is placed the moral obligation to hold itself in readiness to assist the officers of the government in every time of distress in maintaining the nation's credit. I am aware that no legal reason exists for such a course, but having drawn so much of the wealth and power to themselves through the generous dealings of the government with them, the banks of this country can ill afford to place themselves in an attitude looking with indifference upon the anxiety of the financial condition of the treasury when the financial integrity of the government is threatened. Proffers of help from them at such times, spontaneous in its character, and patriotic in its motive, would disarm thousands of critics who are loud in their denunciation of the system."

First Assistant Postmaster-General.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Frank H. Jones of Springfield, Illinois, who was to-day appointed first assistant postmaster-general, is a native of Springfield, Illinois, and 39 years of age. He has a graduate of Yale in the class of '75, and immediately took up the study of law. Since his admission to the bar he was engaged in the active practice of his profession. He was a member of the last Illinois general assembly from Springfield district. Jones is president of the league of democratic clubs of Illinois and was a delegate to the last democratic national convention. He has always taken a deep and active interest in national and state politics and is a man of brilliant intellectual attainments. Mr. Jones has been selected to deliver the oration on the occasion of the dedication of the Illinois state building at the world's fair the 18th instant.

Blount Appointed.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The president has appointed James H. Blount of Georgia envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the Hawaiian islands, succeeding John L. Stevens. Blount's commission bears the date of yesterday and it will be sent to him by the next mail for Honolulu. It is understood the change was decided on at a cabinet meeting yesterday. A report from Blount, mailed in Honolulu during the last week in April, came to Secretary Gresham yesterday morning and was taken by him to the cabinet meeting. Owing to its confidential character, its contents are kept secret, but it contains such information that the president determined to lose no time in commissioning the new minister to succeed Mr. Stevens.

About Abandoning Fort Duchesne.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Secretary Hoke Smith received a communication from the secretary of war transmitting a recommendation of General Schofield in which he concurs that Fort Duchesne, Utah territory, be abandoned in order that the troops stationed there may be withdrawn and with those at other remote stations concentrated at the new posts constructed for them. In his reply the secretary strongly objects to the proposed abandonment, and says that a question of importance is pending in his department concerning the Indians which would seem to favor a continuance rather than the abandonment of Fort Duchesne as a military post at least for the present. These interests, he says, might be seriously jeopardized by withdrawing the garrison from Fort Duchesne.

Another Bank Closed.

SAN JOSE, May 10.—The bank of Santa Clara county to-day closed its doors. This action was brought about by the discovery that a shortage of from $150,000 to $200,000 existed. C. C. Haywards, the cashier of the bank, died last week and yesterday H. M. Leonard, the vice president and manager, informed all the directors that irregularities existed in the books. This afternoon Leonard filed a petition in insolvency, fixing the liabilities at $190,000 and assets at $144,000.

The belief is that both Leonard and the dead cashier used the money for speculation in mining stocks and real estate. Leonard's schedule showed that he had borrowed $137,987 from the bank, most of the notes being unsecured.

Weather Forecast.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—The forecast for Nevada is fair weather and warmer.

Imperial Institute Opened.

LONDON, May 10.—The British Imperial Institute was opened to-day with a brilliant ceremony by Queen Victoria. The weather was beautiful. This, it is said, will be the queen's last public appearance. Her majesty appeared in good health and radiant spirits. She bowed incessantly in response to the cheers of the multitudes.

Ripsey on Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—The trial of Wesley C. Ripsey, who attempted to kill John W. Mackay on the streets of this city on February 24, began to-day. Mr. Mackay appeared in court and gave his testimony.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this Great Cough Medicine one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chests and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist.

The comptroller of the currency is considering the question of how to make national banks even safer than they have been in the past. Instead of yearly examinations of national banks he proposes to have them examined twice yearly and no two successive examinations to be by the same man. To this end he will double the number of examiners and districts. It costs the government nothing as the banks pay the expenses.

"What right," asks the Denver News, "had Secretary Gresham to infer that the people of Oregon were inclined to riot and disorder? Governor Penney very naturally resented the insult."

Another interesting bulletin from Professor Hillman, entomologist of the Experiment Station, appears in the JOURNAL. It gives an illustration and description of a poisonous plant known locally as "wild sego," which grows abundantly in the foothills west of Reno and doubtless in other localities in Nevada, and which is mistaken early in the spring for the wild onion.

POISONOUS PLANT.

Known Locally as "Wild Sego," "Sand Corn" and "Death Camass." (Newspaper Bulletin No. 5.)

The accompanying figure illustrates a plant which is very common in Nevada and one whose poisonous properties should be generally known. To what extent the poisonous nature of this plant is really dangerous to life cannot be stated at present, yet that it has power to produce sickness is generally admitted by those who are acquainted with it.

Zygadenus paniculatus.

The plant belongs to the lily family and is known in the western botanies as Zygadenus paniculatus (Watson). It has received the common names, "Wild Sego" and "Sand Corn." A closely allied species whose scientific name indicates its poisonous nature is commonly known where found as "Death Camass" and "Hog's Potato." The various species of the genus Zygadenus are mainly western in their distribution and range from the southern to the northern limits of the country and westward to the Pacific. The particular species under consideration seems to have a more limited distribution, being confined to parts of Nevada, California and Utah. This plant is most common in the foothill regions but sometimes occurs on the wild lands in the vicinity of the hills. Both the hard and rocky and the sandy soils seem favorable to the plant's existence. Popularly described, the plant is deep-rooted bearing a coated bulb six or more inches below the surface of the ground. Below the bulb is a blackened stem which has sent forth plants on previous years. This is but a half-inch or more in length and diameter and produces from its crown a few living roots. Along its sides numerous dead roots occur. The blackened leaves of the bulb and stem of the last year's plant are usually found partially or wholly surrounding the underground portion of the younger plant. The plant appears above ground very early, the young leaves increasing in length during March and April. By this time the leaves are eight to ten inches long, gracefully curving outward from the center of the plant and so folded along the middle that a cross section gives the appearance of the letter V. In May a single flower stalk shoots up. The flowers of the cluster are small, cream colored and are arranged about the central stalk for a distance of six to eight inches. Some of the lower branches bear several flowers. An individual flower is shown much enlarged at the right of the plant in the figure.

A case of poisoning, the result of eating bulbs of this plant, occurred recently at the Indian school at Carson. Seven patients, two of whom were adults, were affected. The symptoms presented, for which the writer is indebted to Dr. S. L. Lee of Carson, were as follows: Nausea, headache followed by more or less stupor, this more complete in some than in others. The heart's action was lessened in frequency, while the strength of the pulse remained normal. In the adults the pulsations were reduced to forty-eight per minute, while in the cases of the children these ranged from fifty to sixty-four per minute. The respirations were almost normal and the pupils were unaffected. In twenty-four hours all seemed to have recovered.

The similarity between this plant and some of the wild onion and leek-like plants permits it to be mistaken for these.

The Play Last Night.

The opera house was comfortably filled last evening with people to witness the production of the "Prodigal Father." The comedy compared more than favorably with the mirth-giving productions of the age. Between the second and third acts Carmencita, of whom so much has been said, appeared in her Spanish dances. She did not receive the applause expected, in fact her dancing was a disappointment to many. The public has become accustomed to the serpentine dance and high kickers, which probably accounts for their lack of appreciation of the Spanish dancer.

The Reville says L. Berrum lost 700 head of sheep near Clifton, Lander county, last week, supposed to have been poisoned, as well as three valuable dogs. The sheep were valued at $3,500.

If Ireland gets home rule it is quite probable a new set of postage stamps for use in that country, and distinctively Irish, will be issued. Mr. Gladstone tells the Philatelic Journal that this matter will be one for the consideration of the Irish government.

The Silver State says Sheriff Hadley arrested three tramps at Winnemucca, who arrived from the west having a number of pairs of new pants in their possession. It is supposed the clothes were stolen from a box car at some station between Reno and Winnemucca.

The war between railroads in Colorado has made traveling cheaper than staying at home. A quarter of a dollar will pay fare on the Santa Fe to any point reached by the Rio Grande. It is believed the round trip rate from Denver to Chicago will be $20 before the close of the week.

An Indian from St. Clair, Churchill county, went to Pyramid reservation and prevailed on a Piute woman to leave her liege lord and elope with him. The injured husband followed his wife and was found dead hanging by the neck in a cabin near St. Clair. Johnson Sides says the Indians think the bearded husband committed suicide.

DIED ALONE IN HIS CABIN.

O'Neal, the Colored Bell Ringer, Found Dead in Bed.

As Constable Dickey and his deputy, James Murphy, were going to Chinatown on their regular round night before last, they learned that an old colored man, known as Barseel O'Neal, who rang bells for auctions, had not been seen for some days. The officers went to his cabin and opened the door. The stench which assailed their nostrils led them to believe that O'Neal was dead, and investigation proved that their surmises were correct.

They sent for Coroner Brown and Officer Murphy accompanied that official to the cabin, which is situated near the river below Chinatown. They found the lifeless body of O'Neal in bed with the blankets wrapped around it. In consequence of the lateness of the hour they let the body remain as it was until yesterday morning, when the coroner impaneled a jury consisting of S. Jacobs, P. H. Mulcahy, Charles Pollard, Edward Seitz, J. W. Hollingsworth and Robert Powell, who found from the evidence that deceased was Barseel O'Neal, a native of Virginia, aged about 63 years; that he was last seen alive about noon, Sunday, May 7th; that he had complained of being ill when last seen alive and that his death resulted from natural causes. He had no family and left no property except the cabin in which he was found dead.

COURTS OF CONCILIATION.

An Interesting Experiment in Dakota.

The legislature of Dakota passed an act to create courts of conciliation, the object being to prevent unnecessary and expensive legislation. In a local election a justice of the peace and four commissioners of conciliation are to be chosen, two of whom are to act with a justice in hearing testimony and arguments in civil cases before action is brought into ordinary courts. No attorneys are to be allowed to appear and the chief testimony is to consist of the statements of the principal parties to the action. The justice and the commissioners are then to try to induce the contending parties to adjust their differences on the ground of justice. Should this effort fail, none of the proceeding are to form a part of the subsequent litigation. The main objects of the courts is to prevent lawsuits over small matters.

David McDonald, living on Mud creek, below Milton, Or., was bothered with snakes; they would swallow eggs whole and they would swallow the young chickens. So great was the annoyance he could not raise any young fowls. He finally studied up a plan to rid his premises of the snakes. He bought a big lot of porcelain eggs and laid them around so the snakes could get them. They swallowed them the same as the genuine ones, but they could not digest them and death was the inevitable result.
